

The Psycholinguistics of Bilingualism

Join our poster presentations on Wednesday June 26th, 14:30-15:15, in the room next to the Lecture Theatre of the Library of the School of Philosophy to hear about the investigation of research ideas conceived by the Postgraduates of the MA Specialization

“Linguistics: Theory and Applications”

Semantic associations in the bilingual mind, effects of grammatical gender on cognition, grammar teaching and detection of errors, effects of punctuation on L2 reading, irony comprehension in bilingual autistic children, politeness and emotions across languages, smut effects in L1 and L2, framing and decision making, bilingualism counteracting superstitious thinking

BILINGUALISM & PSYCHOLINGUISTICS LAB
DEPT. OF ENGLISH LANGUAGE & LITERATURE, NKUA