

MA English Studies: Literature & Culture

19th and 20th Century Literature & Culture: Representations of Marginality and Exclusion 2025-2027

Department of English Language & Literature
School of Philosophy
National & Kapodistrian University of Athens

Interested in Cultural and Literary Studies that attend to past and present social and political issues?

In acquiring the skills to complete your first long research papers and academic thesis and prepare for PhD studies?

In developing innovative methodologies and presenting your work at International Symposia and Conferences?

In collaborating with students and scholars from CIVIS European and African partner universities and from other international research networks?

In honing your critical skills to edit academic texts, to teach English literature at an advanced level in private and public schools (IB), to work in the cultural sector?

In working with dedicated professors?

IF YES, JOIN US!

Please visit our site @ https://www.enl.uoa.gr/metaptychiakes_spoyses/agglukes_spoyses_logotechnia_kai_politismos/ and send your queries to Stella Karagianni @ skarag@enl.uoa.gr

Important information: Our tuition-free Postgraduate Program is funded and accredited by the Greek State (Full Compliance). It is recognized by private and public institutions in the EU, in the US and across the world.

Application period: June 2025-September 2025